

"The right of children to live with both parents must be respected and entry clearance delays reduced to a minimum".

U.N. Association for the International Year of the Child(1979).

Anwar Ditta and Shuja Ud Din's three children are denied the right to live with their parents in Rochdale.

The children, Saima, Imran, and Kamran, were born in Pakistan. Anwar has proof that she is the mother of her three children, but the British Government has refused to grant them entry certificates. Consequently, Anwar, Shuja and their children are denied the right to live together as a family.

You can help Anwar and her family by buying this card and publicising their case. All proceeds go to the Anwar Ditta Defence Committee.
