Dear Sir,

I have received your letter ~~dated~~
in which you made a formal complaint against the police.

Your complaint has been officially recorded and a senior officer will, if necessary, be appointed to investigate the matter and will communicate with you in due course.

As you will understand, until the necessary investigation has been completed, the issue cannot be pre-judged, but I do regret any event which leaves you with a sense of grievance against the police.

In the meantime, I enclose a pamphlet 'Complaints Against The Police' which I hope you may find helpful.

Yours faithfully

W G Little
Chief Superintendent
